OPERATORS REVIEW EFFORTS MADE TO ADJUST DIFFERENCES

Efforts made by the telephone operators to adjust their grievances before striking were shown in a statement issued by Miss Julia S. O'Connor, president of the Boston operators' union.

The resume follows:

OCTOBER 30, 1918.—Wages schedule presented to Ryan commission, Washington, a committee of investigation was organized to investigate the wages of telephone and telegraph employees, upon the unequal statement of Mr. Ryan, representative of Mr. Burleson and the chairman of this committee, that his committee had no jurisdiction.

NOVEMBER 14, 1918.—Personally saw Mr. Ryan and asked him what encouragement I could give him. He said that he would not be able to do anything for me. He said that he would not be able to do anything for me. He said that he would not be able to do anything for me.

DECEMBER 26, 1918.—Took strike action on wage demands which had been completely ignored by Ryan commission. Several operators were arrested. The strike was called off on December 26, 1918.

MARCH 26, 1919.—Committee visited Mr. Burleson requesting immediate action on wage schedule. Committee informed that it would at once receive attention of wage control board and in their presence directed Mr. Koss of this board to consider matter.

MARCH 28, 1919.—Boston Union sent letter to Mr. Burleson, registered return receipt, asking him to advise Mary E. Kane, chairman adjustment board, of any decision which had been reached on our wage demands in time for special meeting of union to be held April 7, 1919. Same letter sent on behalf of all New England operators. These letters were never acknowledged by Mr. Burleson.

APRIL 7, 1919.—Letter received under the date, April 7, 1919, addressed Helen Moran, secretary of New England operators' committee, advising officials of New England telephone company had been conferred with, and that in a few days information would be transmitted as to the decision made by the wage control board on our wage question.

APRIL 16, 1919.—Telegram received by Mary Kane, chairman, adjustment board, from Mr. Burleson, advising that in whole the statements he made

Strike Bulletins

Springfield, April 17.—Two hundred and twenty-five plant department employees in this district joined the telephone strikers at 7 o'clock this morning. Several strike-breakers who worked yesterday at the local exchange failed to report today.

Four fashionably attired women entered the Hack Bay Exchange today, and remained, evidently as strike-breakers. The latter now total fourteen.

Nashua, April 17.—Twenty-two linemen, cable splicers and inside men employed by the telephone company went on strike today, joining the operators who are out. At noon the Milford, N. H., exchange closed.

Lenox, April 17.—Operators at the Great Barrington Exchange who had heretofore refused to join the strikers walked out today. Miss Mary T. Tracy of Lenox has not left the exchange for forty-eight hours. Business men here estimate the strike is costing them $50,000 a day.

Fifty Lawrence Wiremen Out in Sympathy Strike. Local Situation Better

Lawrence, April 17.—At a meeting held in Diller Hall 50 wiremen, members of Local 224 voted to go on strike this morning at 7 o'clock in sympathy with the telephone operators and at the same time further a demand for an increase in wages.

The action of the wiremen will be forwarded to William R. Driver, who according to officials of the local union, has ignored the demands of the union previously sent him embodying a substantial pay increase. How much of an increase was sought was not announced. This matter the men are willing to leave to arbitration.

The local situation has resolved itself into a strike of employees of the telephone company rather than of operators only. The operators say they will continue to picket in front of the telephone exchange as long as the strike lasts.

The service here has greatly improved since the strike began. The two days of the strike, due to the fact that the force of men engaged in the strike was increased and the important stations called for immediate attention by the operators.

OPERATORS' STATEMENT. The operators issued the following statement regarding their stand in regard to the fair treatment we have received from our employers:

"We are not striking for a raise. We are striking for a fair treatment. We are not striking for a raise. We are striking for a fair treatment. We are not striking for a raise. We are striking for a fair treatment."

APRIL 16, 1919.—Telegram received by Mary Kane, chairman, adjustment board, from Mr. Burleson, advising that in whole the statements he made

WATERS WON'T SERVE STRIKE BREAKERS

Hotels Warned by Union Leaders After Appeal by Telephone Girls

Telephone strike-breakers in Boston will go hungry if union labor can fix it.

Peremptory notice was served upon the president and secretary of the Boston Hotel Men's Association by State Senator J. F. Carey, in his capacity as business agent of the Cooks and Waiters' Union, that members of that union would not serve strike-breakers quartered in Boston hotels.

The notice became public when the striking telephone girls took the matter up at their mass meeting today at the Grand Opera House. Thirty-five hundred enthusiastic telephone strikers were present.

TECH MEN ACCUSED. Information that several Technological men, former students at the Tech Radio School, but now out of the service, had been employed as strike-breakers at the Hack Bay exchange was given the meeting by Miss O'Connor, who arrived at 10:30 today.

Prior to her arrival the girls held a lively vaudeville show, with talent from their own ranks.

Several songs and dance numbers were furnished by Frances Micklejohn, Catherine Mahoney and Florence Berry, which brought considerable applause.

Just before the arrival of Miss O'Connor, Mary Sylvia, chairman of the strike committee, addressed the meeting. She urged the girls to attend to their picket duty.

Miss O'Connor advocated picketing the hotels where strike-breakers are quartered and of railroad stations where breakers enter the city.

Strike Breakers at Worcester Strike; Half of Them Join Insurgents

Worcester, April 17.—Strike-breakers themselves struck at the Worcester telephone exchange today.

Half of the girls who had been brought in by the company to take the place of the operators who walked out and joined the insurgents.

District Manager Charles Abbott and Traffic Manager Joseph Burns were both had been brought in by the company to take the place of the operators who walked out and joined the insurgents.

The strike of electrical workers was today voted to all localities in the city and handed the private exchange today joined the Worcester District Manager Abbott, members of the company who have been ordered their services as strike-breakers.

Abbott made this statement in a heavy suit against the Western Union, which he said was the cause of the strike. The people are being charged "elephant rates for sending these strikers here to work."

Use Pigeons to Carry Messages When Phone Fails

Carrier pigeons are being used at army headquarters to take messages to the different posts in New England.

A pigeon left today for Fort Constitution, Portsmouth, N. H., with an important message when the telephone failed to respond.

Plans to collect every hotel in the city and the three railroad stations every hour of the day and night were made by the girls and will be carried out by the day.

NEGOTIATION WITH ORDER DEMANDED

Julia O'Connor in Telegram to Tumulty Insists Upon Direct Dealings

Secretary to the president Joseph P. Tumulty, acting at the instance of Postmaster-General Burleson, dispatched a telegram to Miss O'Connor, president of the Telephone Operators' Union, urging that the girls return to work and to file a wage scale with the general manager of the telephone company.

Miss O'Connor promptly replied to the secretary's telegram stating that she generally believed to be opposed to the principle of collective bargaining and inadvisably opposed to wage increases for reasons readily understood.

The following telegram was received by Miss Julia S. O'Connor from Mr. Tumulty, in answer to Miss O'Connor's reply to his first telegram:

"Answering your wire, Miss O'Connor, and her committee should promptly be applied, for changes in wage scales with General Manager of the New England Telephone Company."

Double Stamp Day Is 'Emergency' in Woman's Call

Here is the latest in emergency telephone calls.

A woman in a Boston suburb kept frantically working the telephone book up and down until she secured an operator. "I want Dash-Dean number," said the woman sobbing.

"Is it an emergency number?" asked the operator.

"Yes," replied the woman, "grieve."

The connection was with a hurry, the first call he had since the strike began. The woman ordered $11 worth of goods. It was double-stamp day.

being submitted to a committee constituted as is the operating committee, its entire personnel being telephone and telegraph company officials generally believed to be opposed to the principle of collective bargaining and inadvisably opposed to wage increases for reasons readily understood.

Several Newton business men offered their services for handling of emergency calls in Newton North Exchange. They were on duty in the evening. The Newtons feel the strike severely.

The William Exchange was closed during the night. Three operators were on duty today. One operator is reported at work in Wellesley Exchange.

CHICAGO BANDITS ROB MESSENGER OF $31,121

Chicago, April 17.—Three armed auto bandits today held up James Higgins, a 35-year-old messenger for the National State Bank, a few blocks from the institution, taking cash, jewelry, bonds and securities valued at $31,121 from him, and escaped.

Miss O'Connor's reply to his first telegram was received by Miss Julia S. O'Connor from Mr. Tumulty, in answer to Miss O'Connor's reply to his first telegram:

SOCIETY WOMEN VOLUNTEER AS OPERATORS

Run Salem Switchboard Without Pay to Care for Emergency Calls

Salem, April 17.—Several prominent society women of this city saw the strike pickets of the telephone operators a surprise when they volunteered their services to run the switchboard in the Salem exchange.

Miss Eleanor Russell, daughter of William G. Russell of Chestnut street, and a niece of General Manager William R. Driver, Jr., of the telephone company, and Mrs. Newton Smith of Warren street worked without pay as operators and succeeded in maintaining an emergency service throughout the city.

Mrs. William G. Russell stated that her daughter was in no way trying to assist in breaking the strike, but simply helping out in the case of an emergency. She also declared that the strikers should realize that the volunteer work is more to help the community than it is to help the strikers.

Some 125 men in the plant department of the telephone company have quit work out of sympathy for the operators.

MARLBORO GIRLS JOIN TELEPHONE STRIKERS

Marlboro, April 17.—Marlboro telephone operators joined the strike this morning after voting at a meeting at which Miss Agnes Rice, president of the Framingham local, and a number of Framingham operators were present.

GIRL VOLUNTEERS AS OPERATOR AT MELROSE

Miss Marion Boyce volunteered her services to the telephone company, and assisted by the chief operator and two young men sent from Boston, maintained fair service in the Melrose exchange.

WHEN BUYING ASPIRIN ALWAYS SAY "BAYER"

Ask for "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in a Bayer package—marked with "Bayer Cross."

Don't buy Aspirin tablets in a pill box. Insist on getting the Bayer Aspirin tablets in the Bayer package. Bayer Aspirin tablets are sold in bottles of 24 and bottles of 100—also capsules. Aspirin is the trade name of acetylsalicylic acid. Bayer is a registered trademark of Bayerwerke, Monacensis of Salzkotten, Germany.

PROFESSIONAL WOMEN WORK FOR LOAN

Receive Instructions in Campaign to Put Victory Bonds Across

For the first time in Liberty Loan history professional women of Great Britain have united to aid the Victory Loan. Mrs. Mary Agnes Mahan of Boston is chairman of the working committee of the professional women appeared when they organized.

Other members are Dr. Beattie Scott of Worcester; Miss Helen (Madame) Miller, Dr. Isabel Livingston of Boston; Dr. Laura C. Hughes of Boston; Mrs. John T. Quinn of Cambridge; Miss Harriet Young of Brookline; Mrs. A. Florence Joyce of Medford; Miss Edith D. Hayes of Boston; Mrs. Richard M. Barker of West Roxbury; and Miss L. L. Howe of Cambridge. Mrs. Barrett Wendell, chairman of the Women's Liberty Loan Committee of Massachusetts, explained their duties to the professional women.

AFTER RECOGNITION.

The women of the committee on private and vocational schools and colleges were addressed at Liberty Loan headquarters by W. L. Fitch, headmaster of Milton Academy, and terms of the loan were explained by N. Penrose Halliwell, executive chairman for New England, who declared that it was the duty of the loan workers to get it into circulation.

Other speakers at the meeting were Mrs. Sylvia B. Lord, publicity director, and Mrs. Charles S. Board, executive secretary for New England.

Mrs. Lord today attended a meeting at Vermont Victory Loan Workers at Rutland.

Mrs. E. A. Shuman will have charge of the booth in the store of A. Shuman & Co. on Monday, the opening day of the campaign, when

Who's Who in the 26th Division

Colonel Horace P. Hobbs was born in Pennsylvania forty-four years ago. He graduated from Pennsylvania Military School in 1897, and from the United States Army School of the line in 1912. Assignments with the 17th and 23d United States Infantry have been given him. As division inspector with the rank of lieutenant-colonel he went to France with the 26th Division.

In August, 1918, while in France, he was advanced in rank to colonel, taking command of the 101st Infantry when Colonel Logan of Boston was removed. He was later detached when Colonel Logan was reinstated in command of the 101st. Colonel Hobbs is married and his wife is now living in Washington. He is still abroad.

COLONEL HORACE P. HOBBS.

There will be singing, piano selections and speeches.

FOR FOREIGN WOMEN.

Women who are of foreign birth or descent will conduct five outdoor booths for the sale of bonds. The Belgian women will have a booth on Tremont street opposite St. Paul's Cathedral. Mrs. Albert W. Lewis will have charge of the French booth in Pemberton square. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. L. Rogers Wislizenus, a Polish booth will probably be located in Adams square, while another booth, at the corner of Washington and Adams streets, will be in charge of Americans one week of another week, and of Scandinavians another week.

LIGHTSHIP IS DRIVEN IN BY GALE

Boston Relief Vessel Drags Anchors and Is Forced to Abandon Station

Bringing her anchors in a 45-mile-an-hour gale that swept Massachusetts bay, the steamer East Hampton, which has been replacing the regular Boston lightship, now undergoing repairs, sent a radio message that she was coming into the harbor.

A severe northeasterly gale prevailed along the New England seaboard, hampering the movement of shipping and sending a fleet of smaller craft scudding before the storm in the nearest harbors.

Storm signals had the effect of holding within the harbor several pleasure and tugs which were ready to depart.

GOV. HARDING CENSURED FOR GRANTING PARDON

Des Moines, Ia., April 12—The Iowa House of Representatives after fifteen hours' debate, voted today to censure Governor W. L. Harding for making an "unlawful mistake" in granting a pardon to Brown Hatbush, who was charged with a criminal attack. The resolution censuring the chief executive was adopted by a vote of 28 to 13, after it had been substituted for a majority report of the Judiciary committee, which recommended impeachment of the Governor.

ARLINGTON CATHOLICS BUY GOTT PROPERTY

St. Agnes' Catholic Church of Arlington has purchased the Gott property on Marlboro street, that town, for church purposes.

N. Y. CITY OWNERSHIP BILL PASSES SENATE

Albany, N. Y., April 12—The Fowler-Lowe municipal ownership bill, amended to meet the demands of the New York City administration, was passed in the State senate by a vote of 15 to 12.

The bill now goes to the Assembly, where a stand-out Republican majority is pledged against it.

BOGUS NURSES ENDANGER WORKERS

Industrial Secretary Charges Jeopardization of Factory Employees by Untrained Women

After a tour of inspection of factories, Mrs. Anna M. Stabler, secretary of the Massachusetts commission on health and industry, says:

"Unscrupulous, untrained women nurses of first aid workers are in some of the largest manufacturing plants in the State and are thus endangering the lives of the employees of these plants."

"One woman, who receives $25 a week as a nurse is totally unfit for the responsible position she has obtained," Mrs. Stabler said.

"Every manufacturer should insist that applicants for positions as factory nurses or first aid workers be required by the State law, that goes

HARVARD GETS $5,000 FOR JEWELRY STORE STUDY

A bureau of Business Research of Harvard University has received $5,000 from the American National Retail Jewellers' Association with a guaranty of $10,000 additional during the next two years. This fund is to be used for a study of the operating expenses and management problems in retail jewelry stores following the same methods that the Bureau of Business Research has already used in its studies of several other trades.

This is part of the general plan of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration to obtain reliable information for teaching purposes.

NUMBER OF UNEMPLOYED
MARKEDLY DECREASED

Washington, April 17.—There has been a material improvement in the number of unemployed during the week, the United States employment service announces. The number of work is placed at 91,000, as compared with 121,000 for the previous week or an improvement of 30,000 for the week.

In New York State, with Buffalo not reporting, Syracuse shows the largest unemployed, reporting 5,600.
Glens Falls reports 1,400; Rochester
2,500, and Utica 2,300.

MONTREAL-HAVRE
SERVICE STARTS SOON

Montreal, April 17.—Canadian steamship lines cooperating with the French Compagnie Generale trans-Atlantique will soon inaugurate a regular service between Montreal and Havre with six freighters of 8,500 to 10,000 tons each. This is the beginning of a service planned to carry the Canadian flag into every port of the world.

BRITAIN STIRRED BY ATTACK ON NORTHCLEIFE

Doubt Expressed as to Whether Lloyd George Has or Has Not Strengthened Position

By ROBERT WELLES RITCHIE.

Editorial Service Staff Correspondent

London, April 17.—Was Premier Lloyd George's bitter repudiation of Vincent Northcliffe in his speech in the House of Commons, in which he reviewed the work of the Paris peace conference, the denunciation of a man one of his strongest or the destruction of a political looking for a successor to share the crushing burden of the opposition?

The Premier declared that "every loyal" copies of Lord Northcliffe's pronouncement on the kind of peace that he made which "were freely circulated among the soldiers in France," according to Lloyd George's indictment.

NORTHCLEIFE PILLORIED.

He pilloried Lord Northcliffe for "sowing dissensions between friends whose friendship was essential for the peace and happiness of the world —attempting to make France distrust Britain and France to hate America."

The purely political aspect of the Premier's attack is significant. It has been well known for a long time that the editorial in the Northcliffe press, greatly irritated the Premier, particularly when the news professionals who the news professionals who the news pro-

would say or do at the peace conference.
The Liberals are frankly jubilant.
There is no denying the fact that the Northcliffe press is the most influential journalistic organ in all Britain, and that every article of the editorial from the Piccadilly clubhouse in the Whitehall center.

SUCCESS IN DOUBT.

But even the Premier's strongest supporters are conscious that North-cliffe's friendship is often conflicting because he is prone to be difficult in other words, Northcliffe has not just what Lloyd George charged this afternoon—distrust the world's destiny.

As to the broader issues of the Premier's speech, the opinion which I have gathered from interviews with members of Parliament leaves the Premier's success open to grave doubt. The instant demand in the House of Commons to leave whether Lloyd George has lived up to his predication pledges in the peace conference work still remains.

AS TO ELECTION PLEDGES.

Another dubious pledge suggesting "favor" towards his critics was Lloyd George's declaration that Herbert H.
Asquith, pre-election pledge, were the same as his own—that he was not the only man making such pledges. Was this a preparation for possible revivals when the peace time are known?

"The correct thing Lloyd George has ever done. He said nothing but he talked for an hour and a half," was the most trenchant comment I have heard. It came from the lips of a Unionist member, who added: "His pronouncement of the Russian policy of 'let her burn' is quite at variance with the humanitarian instincts and his pre-election pledges."

MAN WITH GERMAN
NAME HAS IT CHANGED

George Frank Withrop Zornow Nashua, a school teacher, bears a name that is typically German, distasteful and a professional handicap to him. Judge James H. Flint of the Norfolk Probate Court allowed the petitioner to change his name to Frank Withrop.

NOTICE

To All American Red Cross Organizations in the New England Division

The American Red Cross is a society chartered by Congress for the relief of suffering and to assist our Army and Navy in time of war. It is not a proper function for this organization to enter into any labor dispute.
If, according to current reports in the newspapers, any of our organizations as such are endeavoring to collect volunteers to handle the telephone exchanges, it is earnestly requested that they refrain from doing so immediately.

WOMAN STRIKER FINED

FOR THROWING STONE

Lawrence, April 17.—Santo Mingato, a woman striker, who was arraigned on a charge of throwing stones at loyal workers on their way to the mills appeared from a fine of $25 imposed in district court and was bail in bonds of $200. She is accused of aiming a fair-sized rock at Miss Lena Brown, but it missed. The defendant was also charged with calling vile names at the complainant and other workers as they passed along.

how to open a carton of Domino granulated sugar

We keep Domino Granulated Sugar free from dust and all contamination before it gets to you—this is how you can continue to keep it so.

Cut the corner of the carton (as shown in the illustration) so that it is not entirely detached from the box. This will give you ample opening from which to pour the sugar, and when not in use the corner drops down and keeps out the dust.

Remember that Domino Cane Sugars come in five different varieties, Granulated, Tablet, Powdered, Confectioners and Old-Fashioned Brown. All are packed in sturdy cartons or strong cotton bags—all of the highest quality—accurately weighed, packed and sealed by machine.

For Easter

SHOP EARLY—Good advice, always, but especially this week with Patriots' Day and Easter coming on Saturday and Sunday. If you find us busy, remember that a little patience on your part will be amply rewarded by better style, better quality, better value and better satisfaction than you can get anywhere else.

New Clothes for Easter, of course
Make sure they're Good Clothes as well

Kuppenheimer Spring (1919) Suits

There are plenty of clothes that are new in the sense that they've never been worn, yet in fabrics and models they are strongly suggestive of 1918 vintage. But Kuppenheimer Clothes are new in every respect—1919 models—styled a whole season ahead of the rank and file.

Yet they have something more than mere newness to recommend them. Their attractive first appearance is the index of their permanent good looks. The graceful lines and faultless fit are there to stay—put there by skillful designing, kept there by honest fabrics and the finest hand tailoring.

The values represented by Kuppenheimer Clothes at Kennedy prices are no less remarkable than the clothes themselves. For while these are the very highest type of ready-to-wear garments on the market, we sell them for less than you're often asked to pay for merely ordinary makes in ordinary stores.

STATE AND CITY MAGNATIES ATTENDED CATHEDRAL SERVICE

San Francisco, April 17.—All San Francisco stood uncovered yesterday at the funeral of Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst for whom two funeral services were held.

The first service was of a private nature and was held at her home, the Hacienda del Poso de Yerba, at Pleasanton. At this service her son, William Randolph Hearst, his wife and a devoted list of friends and relatives took the last journey of the beloved California philanthropist.

The public service was held in San Francisco at the cathedral. It was a touching and scholarly and rich in all that the city has to offer. The service was held at the cathedral at 10 o'clock. The service was held at the cathedral at 10 o'clock. The service was held at the cathedral at 10 o'clock.

FLAG AT HALF MAST.

While the funeral services were in progress in San Francisco and Pleasanton, the flag in front of California Hall on the campus of the University of California in Berkeley was at half-mast. The flag was at half-mast for more than a score of years was a sign of the university's respect for the woman.

U. S. Orders Flags at Half Mast for Mrs. Hearst

San Francisco, April 17.—For the first time in its history, the flags on the federal buildings and postoffice yesterday floated at half mast in honor of a woman.

The order came from the secretary of the United States Treasury at Washington, D. C.

"The government desired," said Postmaster Charles W. Fay, "to pay a deserved tribute to Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst, a notable woman who was loved and honored by all."

Flags on government buildings are lowered only upon the occasion of the death of a prominent national officer. The order must come from Washington.

Other flags in San Francisco on bank buildings, office buildings, hotels and institutions were displayed at half mast yesterday.

TOMMY ROBSON SIGNED TO BOX ROBINSON

Match, a Long Time Being Made, Booked by Fenway A. A. for Next Monday Night

By GILL.
George Robinson and Tommy Robson have been matched up at last and they will come together in the future battle at the Fenway A. A. next Monday night.

The story behind the signing of the two old rivals is interesting and gives J. M. Ford, manager of the colored box, the medal as champion.

A year or so ago, when both boys were making fame in the boxing circles, they met in a meeting between the pair and it was decided that they should meet again.

Robson, however, lost the fight to Robinson and in spite of the fact that Robinson was a champion, he was not able to get back into the ring.

Why Taxing Incomes Is the Fairest Method

Minds never wholly meet on the problem of who should pay the taxes. A reader comes back at us as follows:

While the "ability to pay" system of taxation as advocated by you is much better than a tax on consumption, it, too, is wrong in principle.

We can readily see this if we apply the principle to a transaction between individuals. We would laugh at a business man who taxed me ten cents for a spoon of thread and you a dollar because you were worth ten times as much as I. My spoon of thread costs me ten cents; so should yours, because we receive equal benefit.

The comparison is inapt because the two instances are not parallel.

A spoon of thread contains just so many inches of twisted fabric no matter who buys it.

But the benefits distributed by government are very much greater in the case of the rich than in the case of the poor.

The poor get out of government only the minimum of protection.

They are at a disadvantage in what they buy.

They are at a disadvantage in what they are able to save and keep.

Many of the agencies of society which exist under the tolerance of government, notably the privately owned public utilities and some of the great business combinations, are properly taxed more than businesses that pay small profits.

Ability to pay taxes is, broadly speaking, a pretty fair measure of the privileges enjoyed through government as it is now conducted.

In time many of these special privileges will be taken away. But meanwhile a tax on incomes graded to hit hardest the high spots is one of the most effective methods yet found to put the burden where it fits most justly.

Four Great Causes of Wars—Gold, Man, Woman and Land

Andrew Jackson said these were, respectively, the chief wealth in Europe, Africa, Asia and America.

But times have changed since Andrew Jackson said this.

The truth most important to realize just now, when so many people are sure they can bring the millennium as a result of this war, is that war in itself has never yet changed human nature in the least and has not very greatly changed the laws, the customs, the passions or the habits of mankind.

But the progress of civilization has changed all of them mightily.

It is, therefore, folly to expect permanent changes in human nature or geography as the result of war. But nothing is more certain than the continual change and continual improvement in the conditions of mankind in the next few years.

Progress is never made during war, but always during peace.

Here are some striking facts in the circumstances of the world today which are turning everything topsy-turvy, breaking all precedents and making the future so full of uncertainties for every nation and every individual. To Americans they are particularly inspiring and hopeful:

The United States is the only country that is PRODUCING. Sending abroad millions in munitions of war ceased five months ago. But our exports are still actually increasing.

The astonishing result is that the balance of trade in favor of the United States in the last three months has far exceeded even the maximum of the war. These exports are now chiefly manufactured goods and raw materials for civilian use.

"Boersman" called attention in the New York American's financial pages recently to the astounding fact that in the fifty-three months of the European war, down to December last, the balance of trade in favor of the United States averaged $202,000,000 a month.

But in January, February and March, under peace, the balance of trade in favor of the United States was nearly $400,000,000 a month. Such a result was not foreseen by anybody and the fact would be incredible if it were not true.

The United States now holds one-third of all the gold in the world.

Every other great nation has issued so much paper money to meet war expenses that none of them is able to keep its currencies on a par with gold in foreign trade.

The United States is the only great nation in the world today whose currency is at par with gold. The great European nations are unable to pay their current obligations to us in gold because they haven't the gold. All of these debts will, therefore, have to be extended in some form of credit.

How marvellously the whole world, and especially the United States, has advanced since Andrew Jackson said:

The circulating medium in Europe is gold; in Africa, man (slaves); in Asia, woman (concubines); in America, land.

What Jackson said is no longer true. WE now have the gold as well as land. Europe now fights over the division of the land, making it the chief medium of peace treaties.

When Andrew Jackson spoke eighty years ago, Europe possessed nearly all the hard money wealth of the world. America was rich only in land, liberty and human energy. Our currency was far below the par of gold.

President Jackson, by his great gift to take the control of the issue of our money out of the hands of private capitalists and confide it solely to the government, did more for democracy, liberty and progress even than Alexander Hamilton, the financial genius who first established the credit of our government.

But the long, very dangerous delay in making peace by the conference in Paris, in which so much has been said in 1918 days and so little done, has less to do with money than with land.

It is the demand of France for the German Rhen Valley (the west bank of the Rhine); the demand of Italy for the entire east shore of the Adriatic, taking away from Austria-Hungary not only her chief port, Trieste, but her only other port, Fiume; the demand of Poland for East Prussia; the German port of Danzig, and part of Galicia—these demands for control of land are in conflict with some of President Wilson's inspired fourteen points.

And so it is the greed of nations for land that makes war so common, peace so hard to get, and still harder to maintain.

Letters to the Editor

College Bill

Editor Boston American.

Senate Bill 297 came up for a second hearing before the Educational Committee yesterday at the State House.

This bill provides that colleges, large and small, must have a capital of not less than $200,000, and that their equipment and maintenance must be under the supervision of a "State Board of Education," and also provides that colleges cannot petition the Legislature unless they meet the above requirements, and also unless they have the approval of the said Board of Education.

This bill puts the poor student who cannot afford a high tuition fee at the mercy of the larger institutions. It is a step in the direction of the formation of an Educational Trust. It is not democratic and not American. It is unfair. It is monopolistic. It will eventually wipe out many of the smaller worthy schools and colleges. It promotes bureaucracy. It increases the present social ills.

I have been recently discharged from the United States army. I have all the requirements to enter a medical school, but it costs money to attend large institutions, whereas in the smaller institutions, where opportunities are found, those men who have responded to their country's call, willing to die for its protection, willing to give life itself in order to save democracy, now after all is over, after victory has been accomplished, those whom he fought for in order that they may be kept open are slammed shut in his very face.

Now, I appeal to you dear Sir, as a defender of the poor people, to raise your protest against this automatic movement.

I want to be educated. I want to learn. Like thousands of other young men, and millions to follow in posterity, and it matters not to me when I acquire this, so long as I acquire it. And since I am a poor, ambitious American, I go to the college that gives me a chance to work my way through, until success is reached.

This cannot be done in a wealthy institution that I know by experience, but I can in smaller ones.

Keeping Up Their Good Work!

The doughboys at the various camps have been put to work exterminating flies.—News Item.

All doomed fly, no more at dawn

You'll sprinkle germs on babies' noses;

No more you'll plant your toothies on

The bald man's maw while he dozes.

No more to ceilings you will cling

By the adhesive power of suction;

No more you'll ply that buzzing wing—

The doughboy's bent on your destruction.

HE'll seek the hangouts where you lurk

Collecting poisonous bacilli.

He'll catch you at your daily work

And knock your block off, willy nilly.

No kitchen garbage ambuscade

Or dust-encrusted stable rafter

Can save you from the coming raid—

The doughboy gets what he goes after.

NO civic clean-up week is this,

Which wearies with its first endeavor.

Make up your mind that you can kiss

Your little self good-bye forever.

And all the allied force of germs

Will have to quit and come to terms.

For they'll be licked the day that you are.

BE LIKE the doughboy it mayirk

When, fresh returned from trenches gory,

His hands are turned to other work.

Which promises no fame or glory.

But though, when flummung to the skies

A thrilling sight the Yankee guns were,

Remember that the little flies

Are just as deadly as the Huns were.

Anyway, They're Too Big

Those "fractions of cents" which the meat packers say comprise their profits look like improper fractions to the consumer.

MARRIAGE TRIAL IS PROVEN FAILURE

At Least Joaquin Miller's Divorce Found So to His Sorrow

(Copyright, 1919.)

"ADVANCED" people like to talk now and then of "divorce reform"—of making it more, not less, easy to obtain divorces than it is now; and of the "trial marriage" as an antidote to the divorce evil. In the latter, if you like the "sample" you have a real marriage, after "trying it out"; otherwise the couple is supposed to be legally free to separate without the formality of divorce.

Read an instance of it in next Sunday's Boston Advertiser and American.

Not so long since, such "views" were quite frequently discussed by radicals who liked to pose as "radical"; and though "parlor Bolshevism" has in a way taken the fashionable place of some of the earlier "reforms" it is perhaps because it seems to embody all of them.

Now Joaquin Miller, poet-recluse of the Sierras, was known to be a man of somewhat radical ideas, and strong in his advocacy of them; and his charming and lovely daughter, Juanita, who shared his solitude and his talents, shared also his radicalism. She also believed in practicing what she preached. And so, believing in "trial marriage," she made one—with one John Reavis, American dentist of the Philippines, who came a wooing to her mountain home.

It was the plan for them to live together "on trial" from August until April, in the mountain solitude.

But the "trial" did not last out the probation-period. Sooner than that John Reavis had packed his things and gone back to his island plantation—leaving his wife-in-name—and they did not kiss goodbye. And the strongest part of it all, that though they had thought themselves doing a highly unconventional thing, and the agreement between them not legal or binding at all, when it came to separating, THE LAW stepped in and said that the marriage HAD been binding, and that the matrimonial chains could not be broken by the filing of the legal process.

There is a pretty story of the romance of Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt and Lieutenant Paul Fitzsimmons, which is told in detail next Sunday.

The cover of the Magazine Section is particularly beautiful this week, being a full-color drawing by Henry Clive, called "The Pirate's Wife." Artists and designers are all the "day the street alsos" described by Lady Duff Gordon—famous "Little" creations—with appropriate illustrations, next Sunday.

More of "Moon of Israel," Haggard's fascinating romance. Not to forget the Comics, of course.

WHEN EXPERIENCE IS NO USE

"Experience is a good thing if you do not forget you had it." A wise man so said.

But do you profit by lamentable experiences?

How about the money you have lost previously, investing in schemes which have been presented to you under different disguises?

The "get-rich quick" pot possession every time, and past experience cuts no figure under the money rush.

All was forgotten in the next mad rush for the pot of gold at the end of the shimmering rainbow.

The Best Bond Ever Northcliffe on Russia Mr Lawson Finds Bolshevism The Hero Birds

By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright, 1919.)

The Victory Loan is well described in slight words by Boersman, the financial writer, who knows more about real America than any other fifty men in the country. He says: "It is the BEST loan ever offered ANYWHERE."

"One Thousand Hero Pigeons Return," says the headline. These birds that have been flying through smoke over battlefields have been during the fighting are brought back to their coops in America.

One wounded, had a distinguished Service Medal. One leg was shot away, still it flew on with the message. The hero pigeons will be well treated for the rest of their lives, let us hope, and served on cataracts by and by.

Those pigeons did not know what they were doing. It is their nature, wherever you release them, to fly straight to the coop. So they flew, not knowing why.

The bird that was a Distinguished Service Cross would rather have had a handful of doves.

Those pigeons don't know why they were sent to Europe. They cannot even think about it. And we human beings do not know why we were brought to this earth, and few of us can even think for three minutes at a time about that. Here we are, here, in the fight and die. And doubtless, as we study the pigeons sympathetically, other creatures in the universe as far above man as man is far above a black beetle, look down and study us.

The peace terms will soon be out and the world will make up its mind whether it is REALLY a peace news or the foundation of more war news. While the country quickly absorbs the VICTORY Loan, Germany will settle down to the heavy carrying of DEFEAT loan that will run far up into the billions—twenty-five, at least, twice as many perhaps.

Mr. Victor Lawson's Daily News announces that its investigation shows systematic propaganda "upon the model of the Bolsheviks of Russia," throughout the United States. Soldiers fighting work are induced to join the I. W. O., which is a sort of Bolshevik secret.

In Kenosha, says the News five soldiers in uniform normally joined the Bolsheviks, and in Los Angeles they are being openly collected on the street by Bolsheviks.

Nevertheless there is no going to be any successfully or half successfully organized Bolshevik movement in the United States.

Less than 1 per cent of the population cannot control a country. There is, however, agitation that should receive attention. It is a way to attend to it is to see to it that all men, nations, and soldiers that are willing to work, have work to do and at decent pay.

Lloyd George of England is having an interesting fight with Lord Northcliffe. They are the two strongest men in journalism and between them they have won the war, Northcliffe by constructive criticism and Lloyd George by his money.

Lloyd George was his money, and Lloyd George as character of the exchequer finding the money, the minister of munitions supplying the weapons and lead of the government using the money and munitions combined.

Lloyd George says "The London Times is nothing but a three-penny edition of the Daily Mail," which is true, as Northcliffe is editor of them both.

Lloyd George talks with impressive earnestness. He is a marvelous man, and beyond question is worth to the British Empire and it's security more than any twenty million men in the whole empire.

All the dukes, viccounts, earls, barons of England, the whole House of Lords multiplied by a thousand, would not weigh as much as Lloyd George in an accurate balance of shrewdness.

A good lesson in democracy for England. All the Howards, Cavells and the rest of the aristocracy are more ornamental lightweights compared with that one Welshman, with his big head and eagle's courage.

Lloyd George, in his latest talk, says one interesting thing; that, if there is democracy in Russia, a country like a volcano in eruption, would be the greatest act of stupidity.

The question is, therefore, how long is the United States to continue throwing men and money into the volcano that is to swallow them.

A celebrated philosopher of antiquity who wanted a mysterious, impressive end to his life, jumped into a democracy in Russia, and there he was.

But there are no American soldiers in any case that don't choose Russia for the volcano that is to swallow them.
